Miss Jessie Wilson, of Hematite, Mo., who is in the city the guest of her cousin, F. R. McCormack, and Miss Annie Boudin, sister of Mrs. F. R. McCormack, will leave the first of the week for St. Petersburg where they will be the guests of H. E. McCormack and family for a week or ten days.

One of the leading merchants of this city, in speaking of the improved business condition of our city, said: "There has been a marked improvement in business for the past few months, and for this month—January—cash business has improved wonderfully. For January 1909 our cash sales will show an increase of from 90 to 100 per cent. over cash sales for 1908, and our credit business has been very satisfactory. Every thing points to the year 1909 being a very busy and prosperous year for Live Oak business houses, and for a big increase in all lines of business."

Ed Delegal brought to our office Wednesday a few stalks of cotton, cut from a three acre field on Julius Skeen's farm a few miles north of town, that is as green and healthy as it was last fall, and is full of bloom and open cotton. It has not been hurt by cold weather and it looks now like there would be enough cotton open pretty soon to pay to pick it again.

Hon. J. B. Campbell, of Washington, D. C., a special representative of the demonstrative work being done in this section of Florida by the government, was in the city last Friday the guest of Mr. A. S. Meharg, who has charge of that line of work here for the government. This was Mr. Campbell's first visit to Suwannee county, and he expressed a surprise at finding so much valuable land suitable for general farming purposes lying idle. He is of the opinion that within the next few years every acre of land in Suwannee county will be in cultivation. The lands of Suwannee county are among the most productive lands of this section of the South, and when this fact becomes known and immigration once starts here, the wild lands will be converted into profitable farms.

Died, in Jasper Sunday morning Robert Altman, aged about 29 years, of typhoid pneumonia, after a several days illness. The burial services were held Sunday evening. A beautiful casket was furnished by Undertaker Potsdamer, of this city. Mr. Altman held a position on the Democrat several years ago, and is well known in Live Oak and Suwannee county. He had a large number of friends and acquaintances who join the Democrat in extending sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Hinely and children and Mr. Frederick returned Monday from the coast in Taylor county where they had enjoyed a ten days outing and camp life. They had a fine time and Mr. Hinely and Mr. Frederick succeeded in keeping the camp well supplied with game, fish and oysters. They killed several wild turkeys, and ducks, squirrels and birds were plentiful. Fishing was fine, and their camp was near a big oyster bed. Sid understands how to pick out the large and fat ones. They had a delightful time.
